INPATIENT PROGRESS NOTE

I was called by RN this morning, 7:17AM. He reported that he incorrectly gave 9mg of methadone to this patient. He states the patient responded to his first name therefore date of birth was not verified by RN. Confirmed with RN 3 times as to specific dose given. Advised close observation given incorrect administration. As relatively low dose was reportedly administered, and patient without significant medical comorbidities, observation was recommended as opposed to ED transfer.

Was called later in the morning by house supervisor at 10:02AM That patient was found unresponsive, and was in fact given 90mg, not 9mg. Informed that EMS was alerted and patient to be transported to emergency department. Called Hospital CMO at 10:16AM to inform of event.
